Biography of Jingxian Wu

Jingxian Wu received the B.S.(EE) degree from the Beijing University of Aero. & Astro., Beijing, China, in 1998, the M.S.(EE) degree from Tsinghua University, Beijing, China, in 2001. He is currently a Ph.D. candidate at University of Missouri-Columbia in the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering. His research interests mainly focus on the physical layer of wireless communication systems, including the MIMO channel modeling, performance analysis of diversity systems, space-time coding, channel estimation and equalization, and spread spectrum communications. Mr. Wu is a member of Tau Beta Pi.

The photo is saved as JWUPhoto.jpg.